

Drawing in Snowdonia

Exercises in Depth and Perspective...

1. The boulder exercise:

① Draw boulder shapes on a sheet of paper.

② overlapping in places.

③ Getting smaller towards the top

④ Leaving a space at the top of the page

⑤ Draw a horizon line along the bottom of the highest shape.

⑥ Shade in the boulders. make the lower ones dark and the higher ones light.

2. One point perspective:

- ① Draw a horizon line
- ② Draw a point anywhere along it
- ③ Draw lines that cross through the point.

- ① Draw a horizon line
- ② Draw a point anywhere along it
- ③ Draw lines that cross through the point.
- ④ Draw a make believe landscape using the vanishing point and lines for guidance.

3. Two point perspective:

1. Click here to go to Snowdonia National Park on google maps.
2. Choose a spot to draw by drag and dropping the little yellow figure on the map.
3. Make a quick 2 minute drawing, keeping it simple.
4. Make a 2 minute drawing of all the different textures you can see in another spot.
5. Make a 2 minute continuous line drawing from another point.
6. Make a 2 minute drawing with your other hand.
7. Make a 2 minute drawing of the landscape with 2D shapes.
8. Make a 20 minute drawing or painting of a view that you find interesting.

The End!

I hope you enjoyed drawing in Snowdonia. You could do the same in another part of the world!