

Our work is central to London Arts & Culture Strategy: “encouraging community cohesion” and “helping to tackle health inequalities, build self-confidence and resilience in individuals”.

Core Arts credentials and most recent related Awards:

2020

Highly Commended in the “Digitising Patient Services Initiative Award”

Last night the virtual HSJ Awards 2020 took place on Zoom hosted by Sir Lenny Henry. Core Sport are proud to announce we received the honour of Highly Commended in the “Digitising Patient Services Initiative Award”. Through our collaboration and partnership working with City & Hackney CCG, East London Foundation Trust, SPS, The Advocacy Project, and Patients Know Best (PKB). Providing a digital platform for Severe Mental Illness (SMI).

2019

Science Museum new Medicine Galleries

Paul Monks our CEO is featured in the Science Museum new Medicine Galleries in 'rethinking treatments', open for the next 25 years, we have been chosen to showcase our work with creative education to improve mental health. Our success and effectiveness in promoting good mental health continues to be widely recognized.

In 2019 our partnership with ELFT won the UK wide HSJ awards for Mental Health innovation of the year and were highly commended in a further 2 categories. In 2020 our partnership was highly commended for Highly Commended in the 'Digitising Patient Services Initiative Award'. Through our collaboration and partnership working with City & Hackney CCG, East London Foundation Trust, SPS, The Advocacy Project, and Patients Know Best (PKB). Providing a digital platform for Severe Mental Illness (SMI).

2018

HRH Prince William, The Duke of Cambridge

In May 2018 we were visited by HRH Prince William, The Duke of Cambridge, who came on a learning visit to see and hear about our methods in addressing mental health issues.

In March 2018 Core Arts won 'London Sport's', Sports Club of the Year Award for the Core Sports department.

We have a history of delivering successful innovative projects. In 2016 we won the UnLtd Social Entrepreneurs Transforming Places Award. In 2013 we won the City of London Growing Localities award: 'Reclaiming and Developing Wasteland' from the City of London Corporation's charity and The City Bridge Trust. Both of these were for our project transforming a 'meanwhile' site into a community garden for staff and patients of the Royal London hospital.

Here are two examples of centres in Europe Replication our services.

2017

Norway

'We were very impressed about what you had achieved at CoreArts and this has been a great inspiration to us, so now we are working with a plan to establish something similar in Trondheim, Norway.'

2016

Czech Republic

In 2016 a NGO group from Prague visited Core Arts to learn about the services we provide to the community.

www.jakodoma.org

facebook.com/jakodomaos

twitter.com/jakodomaos